Saint Padre Pio: "Pray, hope, and don't worry. Worry is useless. God is merciful and will hear your prayer."

"America you are beautiful... and blessed... the ultimate test of your greatness is the way you treat every human being, but especially the weakest and most defenseless. If you want equal justice for all and true freedom and lasting peace, then America, defend life."

—Saint John Paul II

WONDROUS CHILD

In the Gospel scene at Cana, we see Mary turning to her own child, Jesus. Perhaps she recalled the power of the Spirit that had flowed in her womb at his Incarnation, leading her to discern that surely he must have Spirit-given gifts that could help with the impending crisis at the wedding. As at her Annunciation, she may not have been completely certain, at first, exactly how this would come about, but in faith at Cana she turned to Jesus. In faith, her words, "do whatever he tells you," echoed her reply to Gabriel: "Let it be done to me as you say." In faith, she knows whatever words the Word will speak are bound to bring another inbreaking of the Spirit, another manifestation of God's reign. And she is right. Her wondrous child, John the Evangelist tells us, performed his first wonder there, and signaled the presence of the divine in the everyday.

LITURGY CORNER

Saints Julian and Basilissa (died ca. 304) were husband and wife and are venerated as saints in the Roman Catholic Church and the Eastern Orthodox Church. They were Christian martyrs who died at either Antioch or, more probably, at Antinoe, in the reign of Diocletian, early in the fourth century, on 6 January, according to the Roman Martyrology, or 8 January, according to the Greek Menaean.

There exists no historically certain data relating to these two personages, and more than once this Julian of Antinoe has been confounded with Julian of Cilicia. The confusion is easily explained by the fact that thirty-nine saints of this name are mentioned in the Roman Martyrology, eight of whom are commemorated in the one month of January. But little is known of this saint, aside from the exaggerations of his Acts.

Legend

Forced by his family to marry, he agreed with his spouse, Basilissa, that they should both preserve their virginity, and further encouraged her to found a convent for women, of which she became the superior, while he himself gathered a large number of monks and undertook their direction. The two converted their home into a hospital which could house up to 1,000 people (thus, Julian is often confused with Julian the Hospitaller). Basilissa, after having stood severe persecutions, died in peace; Julian survived her many years, but was martyred, (together with Celsus a youth, Antony a priest, Anastatius, and Marcianilla the mother of Celsus) under the Persecutions of Diocletian.

Julian's martyrdom

During the persecution of Diocletian he was arrested, tortured, and put to death at Antioch, in Syria, by the order of the governor, Martian, according to the Latins, at Antinoe, in Egypt, according to the Greeks, which seems more probable. Unfortunately, as with most saints lives the exact historical details are hard to parse from the religious tropes and maxims.

Veneration

In any case, these two must have enjoyed a great reputation in antiquity, and their veneration was well established before the eighth century. In the Martyrologium Hieronymianum they are mentioned under 6 January; Usuard, Ado, Notker of St. Gall, and others place them under the ninth, and Rabanus Maurus under the thirteenth of the same month, while Vandelbert puts them under 13 February, and the Menology of Canisius under 21 June, the day to which the Greek Menaean assign St. Julian of Caesarea. There used to exist at Constantinople a church under the invocation of these saints, the dedication of which is inscribed in the Greek Calendar under 5 July.

Only a fragment of Elfric's Passion of St. Julian and His Wife Basilissa from his Lives of the Saints has survived, but the traditional legend is there: the two vow not to consummate their marriage on their wedding night and devote themselves to clænnysse ("chastity"). Julian suffers martyrdom by beheading.

Dear and Loving Brothers and Sisters in Christ

For the past few months, I prayed and pondered over it, and decided to request from my community superiors that I need some rest; they accepted and granted the request. I am in the United States for the past twenty-four (24) years; the last four years in the Diocese of Venice, two years here at Saint Katharine Drexel parish.

It was my singular privilege that I had been part of this great parish. These past two years had come and gone like yesterday... where did the time go? As I leave SKD parish, I carry on and take with me lasting memories for the rest of my life. Thank you very much for your love, care, acceptance and understanding for these past two years, especially when I was hospitalized. Thank you for the many prayers raised high above and indeed these prayers were heard. I have no words to express my gratitude to God and to every one of you, I could feel even now many of you are praying for my well-being. Thank you!

A word of thanks and appreciation to all your Christmas-New Year wishes, prayers and your generous gifts. A special word of thanks to Father Ricky for taking care of my needs at the hospital with his constant visits despite his busy schedule. Thank you!

I will be departing for India on February 2nd from Orlando, Florida. Please continue to keep me in your prayers for a smooth and healthy transition into the next chapter of my life. And I too will hold you and all SKD families in prayer. Goodbye! Till we meet we part now.

Yours lovingly,

Father Thobias Sabariar, M.O.C.

A big "THANK YOU" to all who prepared our Church for Christmas and helped to make our liturgical celebration of Christmas so beautiful and meaningful. THANK YOU for your most generous offerings for the Christmas flowers. THANK YOU to Monsignor Richard Snieczyk for assisting us with Christmas Mass for our faith community. THANK YOU to our Music Ministers, Sacristans, Hospitality, Lectors, Extraordinary Ministers of Holy Communion, Altar Servers – and all of you who contributed in any way to make our Church's celebration of the Lord's Birth so beautiful and reverent. When we put our minds and hearts – and our time, talent and treasure – in the service of God and neighbor, we show Him gratitude and love for all His goodness to us. The best gift you have given Our Lord is the gift of yourself.

Father Thobias and I also want to thank you for all the Christmas cards and greetings, goodies and gifts that you have sent us. To serve you in this beautiful parish is a privilege and a joy. Know that we will continue to lift you and your family up in prayer... to thank God for His many gifts and to show appreciation to those in our parish families, our friends, and our neighbors.

On behalf of the Parish Staff, Father Thobias and myself, wishing all of you a most Blessed New Year. May Mary, the Mother of God and the Christ Child bless you and your families, and may the Lord bestow upon all of you the gifts of peace and joy.

-Father Ricky

A Morning For Women

We all have been secluded, stressed, and challenged these past two years and it takes a toll on everyone.

Come join women from Florida's Council of Catholic Women Central Deanery as we gather to hear these topics and take time to meet each other.

Josephine Weiss Will start the day with a beautiful prayer service called the "Breath of God".

Barbara Evans Will give us ways to identify where you are on the stress chart and ways to deal with the stress in your life.

Brenda Dolan Will talk about a powerful voice for Catholic Women in the world.

Iris Gomez Will give us pointers on being inclusive of women from different cultures.

40 Days for Life – 365

Our Lady of Guadalupe said to St. Juan Diego

"Am I not here, I, who are your Mother? Are you not under My shadow and protection? Am I not the source of your joy? Are you not in the hollow of My mantle, in the crossing of My arms? Do you need anything more? Let nothing else worry you or disturb you."

So Our Lady of Guadalupe and I am asking you to not worry or be disturbed just come and pray at 40 Days for Life – 365 in Fort Myers on this coming Thursday and/or any future Thursday anytime between 12PM and 2PM.... outside the Planned Parenthood, 6418 Commerce Park Drive, Fort Myers
